

Experiencing New Birth!
Tevet Firstfruits Celebration!
Returned from China!

Friday, December 14, 2012

Dear Celebrating Saints:

I just returned from China. Next week I plan to share more details (and will share some on Sunday morning), but right now I want to thank each of you for praying for us. Your prayers to get us home were amazing. This was such a historic trip, and I believe all of the Chinese leaders would fully agree with the impact of this gathering.

Next week we will have a lot of special things for you. So be sure to watch the website and Facebook for what we share!

Firstfruits Celebration for Tevet!

This will be a very special weekend at the Global Spheres Center. Tomorrow (Saturday) night we have our Rosh Chodesh Celebration for the Hebraic month of Tevet. Robert Heidler will be teaching on “The Tribe of Dan: The Tribe That Missed Its Destiny!” Following this celebration, everyone is invited to go out to Gardens to see the lights, enjoy live music, snacks, drinks, children’s activities, and holiday shopping. If you are not able to join the live webcast on Saturday night, it will be available on replay through December 27.

Special Celebration Service this Sunday!

On Sunday morning, we will have a music-filled Celebration Service at 9 AM. This is a season when our music should set an atmosphere of great joy. Join us as we worship and give our best to the King of Kings! In addition to administering the service, I will be sharing on Experiencing New Birth! If you cannot join us, the webcast replay of this service will be available through next Wednesday.

A Time to Hear the Bells!

As I said earlier this month, we planned to send out some wonderful songs, old and new, that can break old cycles. Last Sunday, Justin Rana led us in “I Heard the Bells on Christmas Day.” With its message of hearing “peace” in the midst of the world’s clamorings, this is a wonderful song for this hour. I encourage you to take the time to listen to this song by clicking HERE.

Blessings,
Chuck D. Pierce
