

A Call to Embrace Your Call!
If Not Now ... Then When?
An Update from Daniel and Amber Pierce

Thursday, February 27, 2014

Dear Friends of Israel:

My heart longs to see God's children walking in the fullness of their identities. In their latest update, Daniel and Amber share how Sunday's service here at the Global Spheres Center touched them, and further amplified what the Lord has been speaking to them about the next generation rising up and embracing their call. As you join them in crying out for a Joshua generation to break forth, declare that your eyes will also be open to hear the voice of the Father speaking His truth and purpose over your life!

Blessings,
Chuck D. Pierce

One of the benefits of living in Jerusalem is that we often have a chance to connect with leaders and hear what the Lord is doing internationally. We love these opportunities because they often confirm things the Lord has been speaking to us and allow us to see a bigger picture. Lately we have met with several established leaders who are starting to train up successors in the Kingdom and look for those who are willing to build on the foundations that God has established in past seasons. We see that there are many in our generation who are willing to accept the call that God has over them and seek to further His purpose in the earth. I believe God wants to raise up an army to stand on these foundations!

For many of us, there have been times when we felt like we were not yet ready, or too young to be fully established in our call. During Sunday morning's webcast from Glory of Zion, we could see God moving in our generation as John Mark Pierce shared a word concerning the need to seek God in the moment. He said, "If not now ... then when?" Many people came forward in an act of repentance. We felt that this time represented more than turning from sin. Calls are being extended and it's a time to see who is willing to begin the process of following in the footsteps of the ones who have sown so much. If not now ... then when?

Daniel and I are currently at the Red Sea. We came to seek the Lord for the season that we are entering into. We felt that this was the place God wanted us to prepare for Passover because this is where Israel broke through, into freedom from Egypt. All the miracles that occurred throughout Moses' life led up to the moment when God's will to set Israel free was accomplished! When the Red Sea parted, it was a fulfillment of everything God had promised Moses, as well as the establishment of the mantle he would later pass on to Joshua. God raised Joshua up as one who was willing to push forward into the fullness of the work He had started with Moses.

God has been showing us how it is time for our generation to accept the call and dedicate ourselves fully to the work God wants to do in us. We can fully begin to walk in destiny, when we see ourselves the way that God sees us. As you seek the Lord for the future, meditate on Isaiah 62:3-4: "You shall also be a crown of glory in the hand of the LORD, and a royal diadem in the hand of your God. You shall no longer be termed forsaken, nor shall your land any more be termed Desolate; but you shall be called Hephzibah, and your land Beulah; for the LORD Delights in you, and your land shall be married." You are a royal diadem in the hand of your God!

From the Red Sea,

Daniel and Amber Pierce
