

Connecting and Counting from Harvest to Harvest!

Enter into this Time of Counting the Omer!

Thursday, April 19, 2018

Dear Counting Ones:

The Hebraic month of Iyar is the hinge (or vav) month that connects Redemption (Passover) with giving and outpouring (Pentecost). If we move right this month, the rest of our year connects properly. This time frame is also about COUNTING, as we count the days from the time of the Yeshua's resurrection to the release of His Spirit to His Body on earth. If we count right at this time, then we end up being prepared for our future.

In my book, Time to Defeat the Devil, I share about multiplication and the counting of the omer:

“Every year the Israelites enter into the counting of the omer, I believe this is a key to understand in our journey toward promise. The people would always be reminded of their escape from Egypt from generation to generation throughout history. Passover would become the day to remember deliverance and to begin a counting from one harvest entry point until harvest was moving into fullness. This was known as the counting of the omer ... This counting produces a time-sequenced guide that opens the way for new revelation and multiplication.”

The real issue for this time of counting is the anticipation of breakthrough produced. Counting with an expectation for visitation and harvest causes a new level of faith to arise. Biblically, we are in the time frame between the barley harvest and the wheat harvest. So this is a time of counting from HARVEST to HARVEST. Realign your emotions so that the function of your “expectation” is restored and receptive to Holy Spirit. Allow a new harvest mindset to be developed so you are positioned for multiplication. I am declaring your vision is being shifted, redefined and established so you will go beyond in unlocking your next portion of breakthrough.
